

Terms and Conditions

Privacy Policy

Website private and policy of CES Pty Ltd

This policy applies to all visitors to CES website and CES customers. CES respects your privacy and takes the protection of personal information very seriously. CES collects, stores and uses personal information solely for the purposes of delivering effective service to its clients. CES understands that you are trusting us with your information and that requires responsibility to protect your information.

C.E.S does not collect information to resell it to third parties without the client's consent, should it ever engage in such a practice and therefore indemnifies itself against third party applications that may be phishing information. The aforesaid indemnity applies to any natural or juristic person who visits CES's website and willfully provides information to CES such as names, telephone numbers, email address, postal address and the like such as payment information (if applicable).

We are committed to protect your privacy, we will only use the information that you provide to us lawfully (in accordance with the promotion of access to information Act of 2000 and the protection of personal information Act 1998). The type of information collected;

- Name
- Job title
- Address
- Contact numbers
- Email address